A Juvenile Justice Model Court is one that makes the commitment of human and fiscal resources to follow key principles and recommendations set forth in the Juvenile Delinquency Guidelines. In this context, the term means that a court seeks to improve practice by implementing the Juvenile Delinquency Guidelines and assessing its progress serving as a “model” for broad systems change. The Project sets forth essential elements to help courts achieve improved delinquency case processing and outcomes for youth, families and communities while aspiring to excellence. Project is underway. Contacts: Larry Scroggs and Dini Malone
- School Pathways to Juvenile Justice System Project - On November 25, 2013, the NCJFCJ selected Juvenile Court as one of 16 courts in the nation to participate in the School Pathways to Juvenile Justice System Project. The NCJFCJ provides training and technical assistance to help judicial leaders develop efforts to reduce referrals of youth to juvenile courts for school-based misbehaviors and to expand the use of positive disciplinary practices in schools. The NCJFCJ’s goal for this project is to support student engagement and reduce students’ school exclusion. The work is based largely on the successes of Judge Steven Teske (Clayton Co., GA) and former judge Brian Huff (Jefferson Co., AL) that have addressed school-to-juvenile justice system issues in their jurisdictions and have assisted other courts to address the issue as well. Selected sites are assigned a Site Visit Facilitator recruited by the NCJFCJ due to their knowledge of school-court issues and/or experience with team facilitation and strategic planning. The first Technical Assistance Site Visit occurred on December 16-17, 2014. Judge Steven Teske of Clayton County, Georgia, Judge John Romero of Albuquerque, New Mexico and Cheri Ely are NCJFCJ Facilitators.

"implement best practices and to improve court systems for the benefit of the children and families in the respective jurisdiction". Juvenile Court was chosen, in part because of "the court's commitment and motivation to implement system reform efforts; the court's willingness to organize and form a strong collaborative team; and the court's desire to improve current court practice." The NCJFCJ has been partnering with courts across the country since 1992 to improve outcomes for abused and neglected children and their families. The selected sites receive individualized assessments, training and technical assistance as they work toward improving practices and outcomes. NCJFCJ staff works closely with lead judges and their court teams. In addition, the NCJFCJ provides training on the Enhanced Resource Guidelines and fosters important connections to the network of the NCJFCJ Model Courts. On November 12-14, 2014, the first Technical Assistance Site Visit was conducted by Franz Braun and Sarah Ray, NCJFCJ Project Leaders. Update: On March 18-20, 2015, Judge Michael and key Court staff attended the All-Sites Conference in Reno, NV. (New)
